“Global Ambassador Program is a unique opportunity for current international students to welcome, support and encourage prospective and admitted international students to DePaul University.”

Yuri Tam, Coordinator of GAP

WHAT IS GAP?
The Global Ambassador Program (GAP) is a scholarship opportunity for current undergraduate international students. Through GAP, current students will be able to share their university experience with international students who want to learn more about DePaul.

Likewise, ambassadors will contact students who are in the process of applying to DePaul University or who those who have been admitted.

WHAT WILL GLOBAL AMBASSADORS DO?
- Correspond with prospective/admitted students via email, FB, Skype.
- Host SKYPE&FB chat sessions, maintain the GAP website, Facebook pages, and submit regular DeBlog posts.
- When able, represent DePaul at schools in their home country.
- Act as spokespersons for the university including outreach to EducationUSA centers by assigned territory.
- Achieve 2 SMART goals each quarter.

SCHOLARSHIP
GAP scholars will be awarded $1,000.00 per quarter. In order to receive scholarship funding, students must be actively serving as an ambassador.

WHAT HAPPENS AFTER I APPLY?
Once all applications are reviewed selected students will be asked to participate in a 30 minute interview with the GAP Coordinator and other staff. If chosen a formal invitation to join GAP will be sent via email. Students selected to join GAP will need to be available for a training day at the end of the fall term. 3 students will be selected for GAP for the year 2014.

INTERESTED? APPLY TODAY!
Please submit the following materials hardcopy to Yuri Tam by November 1, 2013 for consideration for year 2014.

1. The GAP application
2. One letter of recommendation from DePaul faculty or staff.
3. A one page personal statement indicating your interest in participating in GAP.
4. A copy of your unofficial university transcript indicating a minimum GPA of 3.0.

WHAT WOULD BE YOUR TIME COMMITMENT?
Ambassadors will play an active role in the overall communication process with both prospective and incoming international students, especially via social media outlets.

On average students should anticipate serving 3 hours each week as well as attending a bi-weekly group meeting along with certain university functions that occur outside of office hours.

While we understand it is difficult to predict changes in your schedule each quarter we would like to see a year long commitment on behalf of ambassadors.
